A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health-destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain."

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectora-tion easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25c; large size 75c. At all druggists.—W. T.
Brooks.

FOR JUDGE OF COURT OF APPEALS.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE FIFTH AP-PELLATE COURT OF KENTUCKY:—I am a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals from this District, subject to the action of the Democratic party. As Circuit Judge, it became my duty to try a number of criminal cases, which have become a part of the State's history and at a most critical time. As Judge of the State Fiscal Court, it fell to my lot to construe the Statutes adopted, to put in force the provisions of the new Constitution, as well as to construe the present Constitution whenever a controversy arose as to its proper construction. Almost innumerable cases have burdened the dockets of my court, touching the rights of corporations and the exercise of franchise under law. How well I have discharged my duties under such trying circumstances, is left to you to determine.

I will be very grateful to all who feel they can assist me to secure the high position and office to which I aspire.

Very respectfully,
JAMES E. CANTRILL.

FOR CONGRESS:

We are authorized to announce W. P.
Kimball, of Fayette county, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress from Seventh District, subject to the action of the district convention to be held in the city of Lexington on Thursday, May 12, 1904.

I am a candidate for re-election to Congress from this District, subject to the action of the Democratic party. I believe in getting as close to the people as possible, and it was my desire that a primary election be held to select a Democratic nominee for Congress, so that every Democrat could have the privilege of going to his precinct voting place and expressing his choice, but my opponents desired mass conventions at the county seat, and the committee so ordered.

I am now serving my second term as your Representative. I have endeavored, to the best of my ability, honestly, faithfully and conscientiously to do my duty. It is my highest ambition to secure legislation for the relief of the farmers, who have been so grossly imposed upon by unjust laws, and I feel that my experience has fitted me to render valuable service on this line, if I am permitted to continue to represent my District.

My official duties in Washington will prevent me from making an active personal campaign in all the counties of the district, therefore, I will have to rely on my friends to take care of my interest, which I have an abiding faith they will do. Trusting my service as a member of Congress meets with your approval, and hoping my candidacy will receive your valuable aid and support, I am Very respectfully yours, SOUTH TRIMBLE.

HOLY CROSS MONASTERY OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

There was dedicated at West Park on the Hudson a few days ago the new monastery of the order of the Holy Cross of the Episcopal church. Built on the west bank of the river, almost at the water's edge, the new monastery is situated in grounds which are almost 70 acres in extent. Fruit trees and grape vines have been planted and cattle and horses installed. The fathers will assist in tilling the soil and reaping harvests. Each father has a cell for his own use.

ABOUT MARRIAGE IN INDIA.

American Missionary Gives Some Interesting Information Concerning Wedding of Natives.

A missionary who has spent some years in India, and whose work at present is particularly concerned with an orphanage conducted under American auspices in Calcutta, interested a company of young people in this city recently with an account of the way marriages are arranged in India. She referred only to the marriages between the girls in the orphanages and the young Christian men of the neighborhood, says the Brooklyn Eagle, and said that scarcely a week passes by that the managers of the institution are not petitioned by some young man for assistance in obtaining a wife.

"Of course we never induce a girl to get married if she does not feel inclined that way," said the missionary, "but the majority of them are perfectly willing, and oftentimes we are petitioned by some of the girls to let them have the next chance. The choice between the girls rests with us, not with the young men, for if the suitors were permitted to meet the girls at the orphanage, and make their own choice, the fairest girl would inevitably be selected. The Hindu is not different from other folks in his appreciation of beauty, but the prettiest girl might not be the wife best suited to the young man in whose behalf we are working; so we make the choice, and if the girl is willing, the young man is informed of the fact. He usually comes to the orphanage accompanied by his nearest feminine relatives, and, as a general thing, the preliminaries are soon arranged. The period of engagement does not last long, and the couple rarely express any desire to see much of each other. There is no hindrance to a reasonable amount of intercourse, but they do not care for it, and it is not the custom of the country. Of course, we never let a girl marry from our home unless she is a Christian. And we make all the necessary inquiries as to his character and to his ability to maintain a wife. Then, too, we have to be careful to select one suited to his station in life—that is whether he is a hill man, or resides in the city, and is in civil service. So far as we have been able to ascertain, the average of happy marriages that have been contracted in this way equals that of the average in other lands.

"It is customary for the bridegroom in such marriages to provide his bride with her wedding gown and accessories. We provide the rest of the outfit, and a marriage in the orphanage generally means a gala time for the girls. All those old enough to understand the meaning of the ceremony are interested, and the chapel is prettily decorated with flowers and vines in honor of the occasion. Sometimes the newly wedded couple make their home with the groom's people, but generally they take possession of a home of their own, and this we consider the most satisfactory arrangement. Girls marry very young in India, the law permitting a girl to become a bride at 12 years of age. We consider 16 a more preferable age, but in India that is considered quite old. As a matter of fact, a girl who is not wedded at 18 is unlikely to be so unless she should be fancied by some widower, who, if he has children, generally prefers a wife a little older than the average."

Beautiful Paris.

The Paris municipal authorities have offered prizes and medals for the best floral decorations for city balconies.
Every Parisian apartment has its balcony, always more or less adorned with plants and vases, and much art is displayed in the newer houses, where special provision is made for flowers. The few houses decorated last year by a society having for its object the beautifying of the city were so effective that the present prizes are offered. The jury that will pass upon the balconies includes the eminent painter, Besnard, and a number of other artists and architects.—N. Y. Post.

y of the menu?"

"With pleasure. I'll omit the asparagus."—Detroit Free Press.

ONE WOMAN'S CURIOSITY.

How It Led to the Discovery of the Only Turquoise Mine Known to Exist in Mexico.

Perhaps the first mine in all the world that has been discovered because of a woman's insatiable curiosity has been developed in the state of Zacatecas in the Santa Rosa district, near Bonanza. From time immemorial, says the Mexican Herald, it has been an adage among miners that the best mines have been located by accident. Prospectors have been known to discover a lode through the kicking of a piece of metal from an unknown ledge by their mules' hoofs.
Cripple Creek was discovered through the merest accident by Stratton; but it remained for a woman, Mrs. V. M. Clement, to discover a rich deposit of turquoise, reputed to be the only one in Mexico, in the Santa Rosa mine, while searching for pretty stones on the dump of the Prospect.

The mine was then being worked by V. D. Williamson and some associates as a lead-silver prospect. They had never even suspected the existence of turquoise. Telling the story, Manager Williamson said:

"Mrs. Clement was a large stockholder in the company. She lived at Bonanza, and it had been the joke of the other members that she was always prowling around the dump picking up pieces of ore and claiming they were all sorts of things, other than what they were. One day about 13 months ago she went out to the dump and picked up a pretty light blue stone which was very hard and shiny. She thought it would do for her collection, so she took it home.

"Upon her arrival she compared it with a piece of turquoise she had bought in the United States, and came to the conclusion that it was turquoise. The other members of the company laughed, thinking it was another joke on Mrs.
Clement. We had been mining the property for lead and silver. Mrs. Clement was so persistent that we sent the specimen to Mexico City and had it analyzed.
The report came back that it was pure phosphate of aluminium, or turquoise.
"After this report was made, other samples were taken, and the company became satisfied that the stone was turquoise. Now the mine is being worked solely for the gem."

ORANGES BRING RICHES.

Tree, as a Rule, Are Vigorous and in Some Instances Remarkably Prolific.

The orange tree is noted for its longevity. In Cordova, Spain, there is a grove said to be not less than seven centuries old; and these ancient trees, although hollow and knotted, are still covered with blossoms and fruitage.
The orange tree, says Allan Sutherland, in Booklovers Magazine, is very vigorous, and is remarkably prolific. It is stated that as many as 20,000 oranges have been picked from a single tree in the Azores in one season; while at least half that number have been gathered from one in Florida. It is recorded that two magnificent old trees in Seville, Spain, have yielded about 30,- 000 each in a single season; and at Nice is a tree 50 feet in height and three feet in diameter, which produces 6,000 oranges. As a rule, however, trees bear from 500 to 2,000 oranges annually.
The tree is very uniform in its bearing, there being no off years. The blossom and fruit are rarely hurt save as the result of unexpected frost, the orange-grower's most dreaded enemy.

Passing of a Relative.

They were out walking one evening, and he lifted his hat to an elderly man as they passed.

"What a distinguished looking old gentleman!" she exclaimed. "Is he a relative of yours?"

"Yes," he replied, and there was a tremor in his voice as he felt in the pocket where his watch had formerly reposed, "he's my 'uncle.'"

And the dear girl never knew the truth.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Had the Right Idea.

Mrs. Enpeck—I think, Henry, that our daughter has made a very satisfactory marriage, and that she will succeed very well in the management of her husband.

Henry Enpeck—Why do you think so?
"I overheard her talking to him this morning, and she got him to agree to a proposition like this: 'If you will do as I want, I promise to do the same.'"

THRO' KENTUCKY.

Thro' the grand state of Kentucky, Where the "Old Home" got its name, Where the fields are overflowing With the yellow ripening grain.

Here tobacco plants are growing,
In the fields not sown with corn, Tobacco plants—big as cactus—Just as sure as you are born.

Yes, they're large as good-sized cactus, Larger in our home-like view, But it's of a fine a grade as Is that old "Kentucky Dew."

Here all people reap a harvest, Money in bank from year to year,
All the green calamity howlers, Lose their jobs when they land here.

Here the "dry" ways are the highways, Built high and dry from rains and flood, Here the "good roads delegation," Swear the roads are sutt'nly good.

But of pikes and highways finest, There's a "road" that suits my taste; Tis the line of Solid Comfort, And the trains let no time waste.

From Kentucky to St. Louis, Operates this road of class, Across the famous old "Green River"
On its roadbed smooth as glass.

Would you know the road I speak of?
Listen then to my advice,
For you'll need it in your business,
On your trip to Paradise.

In your travels to St. Louis—Hurry, beat them under the wire,
"Get the 'Henderson Route' habit!"
'Tis a good one to acquire.
